BROWN LAUKEA AND HOME RULE

HOME RULERS DISCUSSING SHERIFFS AND TERRILL MAY RUN FOR DEPUTY.

The Home Rulers are now talking of not putting up any sheriff and not making any endorsement of either Brown or Laukea, but what they will do is a matter of some doubt. Some of the executive committee today predicted that there would be an endorsement of Brown.

Another proposition discussed is to trade an endorsement of Laukea for a Democratic endorsement of Notley. Some Democrats are willing to endorse Notley for an endorsement of their man for sheriff. As Notley would be elected anyhow, they claim that no harm would be done. Notley is said to be not one of those who favors this plan, as he has no faith in fusion.

Fred Terrell for Deputy Sheriff is the Democratic probability. Terrell has been doing some sounding and his friends think he has a good chance to beat Henry Vida.

The Home Rulers' convention is to be held on Monday, the same day as the Democratic convention. The executive committee of the party and various delegates have been holding a lot of discussions today. The question of endorsing Brown is one of the matters up. It is said that the party has almost decided not to put up a candidate for sheriff and is discussing whether to endorse Brown or Laukea, or to leave the matter open altogether.
